Read what it means to other women

Unequalled for corduroy and chinchilla coats

"Have tried your Lux with great success. Washed a white corduroy coat and it looked as good as new,—it was a child's coat and very dirty, and I didn't have to rub it at all." Mrs. F. W. Gordon, Portland, Maine.

For unusual things which you ordinarily wouldn't think of washing with soap and water

"I use Lux for unusual things which you wouldn't ever dare to try to wash with any other soap. For instance, I washed my silk lamp shades with Lux, and they came out in absolutely perfect condition, as good as the day they were bought." Mrs. J. R. Barker, Cambridge, Mass.

Brings back to lace curtains all the beauty of their original newness

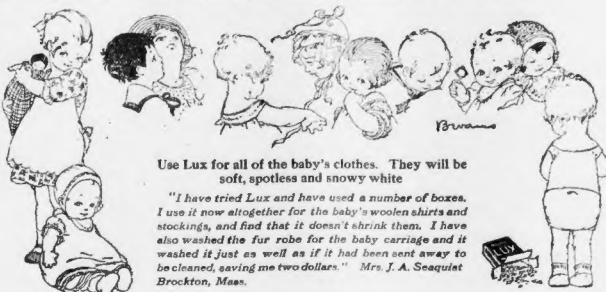

"Have used Lux for the last three years. Wonder how I ever got along without it. We use it always for finest of laundry work. Cannot recommend it too highly, especially for lace curtains. Have recommended it to numerous friends who like it as well as I do." Mrs. T. C. Brewster, Granville, Mass.

Lux is just what you should use for fine laces

"I used your Lux Soap for some very fine laces with better results than I could get from other preparations, using less soap, time, and energy." Mrs. P. Dreyer, 532 East 89th Street, New York City.

So many women have written us of their wonderful success with Lux that we print these letters to show you just what Lux means to thousands and thousands of women.

Use Lux for all of the baby's clothes. They will be soft, spotless and snowy white

"I have tried Lux and have used a number of boxes. I use it now altogether for the baby's woolen shirts and stockings, and find that it doesn't shrink them. I have also washed the fur robe for the baby carriage and it washed it just as well as if it had been sent away to be cleaned, saving me two dollars." Mrs. J. A. Seaguit, Brockton, Mass.

Wash your sweater yourself with perfect results

"It gives me pleasure to tell you how much I like Lux. I have used it for blankets and sweaters, and have a white sweater which has been washed several times with it and it is still white, soft and unshrunk." Mrs. T. W. Pratt, 21 Sanborn St., Reading, Mass.

Unlike anything you have ever seen

Lux is not a soap powder, not a chipped soap, not a cake of soap—but a wonderful pure essence of soap in flakes.

No shaving, no chipping required

With Lux no shaving or chipping is required. It is the modern form of soap—pure, concentrated soap in flakes. You should never rub soap directly on a fine fabric. The thin, transparent Lux flakes dissolve instantly and entirely in hot water.

How to use it

Just pour boiling or very hot water over the flakes. Whisk into a lather. Instantly you get a bowlful of the richest, foamiest lather you ever saw, which dissolves dirt immediately without rubbing.

Dip the clothes up and down in this heavy lather—do not rub—and rinse in three relays of water of the same temperature in which you washed them.

So thoroughly is Lux dissolved, that not a flake of the soap remains in the garment to discolor it. Lux won't harm anything that pure water alone will not injure. For silks, use lukewarm water.

Order a box from your grocer or department store today. After using Lux once, you will be fully as enthusiastic as the other Lux users, whose letters are printed on this page.

LEVER BROS. CO., CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

The best thing you can use for white glaze shoes

"I tried Lux on my white shoes with a nail brush and then used a clean wet cloth to remove the soap and then let them dry. They looked like new. I found it quite the best thing I had used, as it removed the dirt instead of covering it up." Emma K. Burke, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Use Lux always for all fine laundering

"I consider your product Lux one of the best things I have ever used. It surpasses—Soap, and I consider that very good. I have two daughters, and I use it constantly for their delicate dresses, and it is fine." Mrs. A. De- dent, 109 Vanderbilt Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Pure essence of soap in flakes

The safe way to wash delicate silk waists

"I am so very much pleased with Lux. I had a chance to try it on two very delicate silk waists, which came out beautifully. I shall never be without it." Mrs. G. L. Skinner, 456 Broadway, Winter Hill, Somerville, Mass.

WANT CAR LINE RESTORED IN DORCHESTER

The citizens of the Meeting House Hill section of Dorchester are seeking the restoration of the Meeting House Hill-Hampden street-Franklin street car to its old route.

At present, the car runs as far as Essex street and returns over the above route. Previously it went as far as Franklin street. Many claim that the change causes them a longer walk and delays them in getting to work.

It is also claimed that many women are inconvenienced when going to the shopping section, as the Franklin street terminal formerly brought them into close touch with the large stores. The contention is also made that the older women used the surface cars to avoid climbing subway stairs.

The matter was taken up at a meeting of the Ward 13 regular Democratic Club, Hamilton and Bowdoin streets, on Monday evening. President William E. Fitzgerald presided. The following committee was appointed to see the Elevated officials: John H. Dorsey, Dr. George A. Lee, Patrick McMan, James Barry, Louis Ogden and Dennis C. Walsh.

By CHARLES F. DERTILLI, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

The Metropolitan line may use the Cape Canal for its ships, according to a report from London. It has a fleet of 100 ships, and its ships are used for the transport of passengers and cargo between Europe and America.

The report from London says that the Metropolitan line is planning to use the Cape Canal for its ships. The Cape Canal is a new canal which has been built in the Cape of Good Hope. It is 100 miles long, and it will allow ships to travel from Europe to America without having to go around the Cape of Good Hope. Motor Notes.
B. J. C. KERRISON.

What Do You Know About The Maxwell Car?
THIS is the time of the year when more people are considering the question of "what car to buy" than at any other time of the year. This is due to the fact that the weather is getting warmer, and people are starting to think about going on vacation. This is also the time of the year when more people are considering the question of "what car to buy" than at any other time of the year.

For this reason cars are allotted to dealers by the factory according to the size of the dealer's business.
We want to make a showing and be in a position to get a generous allotment of Maxwells hereafter. Because the more Maxwells are sold in any community, the greater is the future demand. We realize the opportunity to do an ever-increasing Maxwell business.

This is only the first of the several messages we are going to print—a few days apart—concerning the Maxwell Car. But we don't expect to find out all you can about the Maxwell before you place your order.
Come in and talk it over with us and let us demonstrate the car to you. Then, don't take our word alone, but ask those who now own Maxwells. Get "posted" about the Maxwell and you will realize more satisfaction and get more "value received" for your motor car money than ever before.

And we are just as willing to have you investigate other cars just as fully as you do ours. The Maxwell will not suffer by the comparison.

Nimble-footed Nimble-witted

Too tired—do you stay at home in the evening? Or when some person drags you from your shell, do you feel dull and heavy at the party where others are carefree and gay? Do you stand there unnoticed while the merrymakers gather round some genial, quick-witted man or woman? As you watch bright, lively young couples dance away to the music of a one-step—do you sadly reflect how old you've really grown? A few kind people will say "poor tired business man"—the others will call you a "gloom." Don't carry the cares and worries of the day around wherever you go. Conserve your energy by day—and have some strength left at night. With every step you take you are needlessly losing away your nervous energy. Replace your leather heels with heels of New, Live Rubber, they absorb the jolts and jars that now wear you out—leave you fresh for the evening's fun. Invest in O Sullivan's—avoid the disappointment of substitutes. In black, white or tan, for men, women and children: 50c attached. Most good shoe dealers now sell latest styles already O Sullivanized.

Green Team Is Favored Trials at Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, May 19.—Over 200 track and field athletes, representing seventeen of the leading eastern colleges, are on hand for the opening day's activities of the annual New England Intercollegiate meet on Dartmouth, as usual, is picked to carry off first honors, with Maine looked upon as the Green's most prominent opponent. This morning Coach Hillman expressed himself as confident his large squad would pick up enough points to gain a fourth leg on the seven-year cup, although he does not expect any great number of firsts.

Today the trials in every event except the mile and two-mile runs will be settled. Tomorrow comes the final, and it is expected that the trials will be the largest it has been in years, due to the largest number of stellar athletes entered.

Interests with the coaches secured early today, showing that every member of the conference is interested in not flinching on securing the invincibility of points they expect their star men to come through with victories.

Tomorrow over night in Boston, while Holy Cross, Worcester Tech, Trinity, Wesleyan, Amherst and the Massachusetts Aggies come over this morning.

University of Vermont and Middlebury are represented by four athletes, arrived late last night.

LEGISLATURE IN FIFTH WEEK OF WORK

With the constitutional convention bill and a plethora of preparatory measures standing out as the high note in the year's work, the Massachusetts Legislature today not the scene for prostration next week.

President Wells of the Senate and Speaker Ciolek of the House announced that final adjournment definitely will be taken a week from today.

Governor McCall's constitutional program, including the State Board of Health, Pension Commission and Efficiency and Economy Commission, the income tax bill and the extension of civil service are the important matters waiting solution by the Legislature. The sentimentality growing among the members is that the Public Service Commission reorganization bill, which is not one of the governor's recommendations, will be rejected in the routine of a day's business and that the Rhode Island State-owned bank, recommended by the Boston Terminal Commission, will go over to the next Legislature.

The session will be the shortest for some years. The Blue Book will not provide the customary big job for the printer.

Governor McCall regards the passage of the bill for a vote by the people this fall on the question of holding a constitutional convention next summer as the most important act of the Legislature. It was the first of the governor's inaugural recommendations.

PREPAREDNESS MEASURES.

Among the preparatory and patriotic measures adopted by the Legislature are:

- To permit federalization of the militia.
- To increase the militia tour of duty from seven to fourteen days.
- To create a reserve list of militia officers.
- To permit the militia to receive gifts of airplanes.
- To permit student bodies to drill with firearms.

- To investigate the advisability of compulsory physical training for boys and girls in the public schools.
- To investigate the necessity of a mounted State cavalry to relieve the militia from strike duty.
- To erect memorials at Petersburg, N.H., and at Fort Bliss, the latter in memory of the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment.

The bills limiting the interest and all other charges to 3 per cent, a month on small loans and exempting three-fourths of a man's wages from attachment are regarded as the most important enactments in the social-labor class. The social-labor class provides that a married man can't make assignment, unless under a writ of attachment of his wife. Others enacted in the social-labor class are:

- To provide that reports of impartial physicians shall be admissible as evidence in workers' compensation cases.
- To investigate the advisability of establishing a six-day week for hotel employees.
- To investigate the necessity of providing special training for persons permanently injured.

In the general group of new laws are those:

- To give blind men the right to designate their own ballot marker at election.
- To make New Year's day a legal holiday.

The bill has a state-wide referendum.

- To prohibit the assignment of persons to public employes.
- To give the city of Newton the right to hold a public election.
- To set off part of Blackstone into a new town to be known as Millville.

authorities cities to establish purchasing departments.

- To prohibit unfair and misleading advertising.
- To abolish the State House Building Commission.

To allow cities and towns to spend their own money against rate and fare increases by public utility corporations.

- To exempt illiterate married women from compulsory attendance at evening schools.

BOSTON MEASURES.

Among the distinctly Boston measures enacted into law are:

- For the construction of a high-pressure fire station in the Charles Village neighborhood.
- For the city to expend $100,000, by vote of the Council, to improve Old Harbor Bay.

- For the payment of $5,000 to Nora V. Shea, mother of Ralph V. Shea, who was shot and killed by a patrolman.
- For the payment of the salary balance of the late Charles E. Billorey, assistant city messenger, to his widow.

For an investigation of the need of extending the Dorchester arm of Andrew square to Upland's arm.

The various constitutional amendment petitions, including the initiative and referendum, were rejected without prejudice because of the assumption that they will be properly set before the constitutional convention next year.

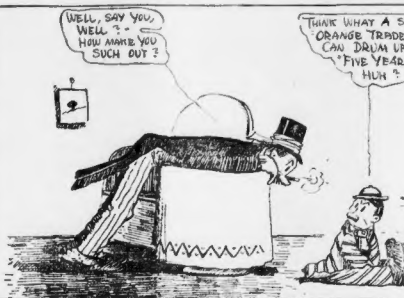

The defeat of the bills for a telephone investigation, eight-hour day for paper mill workers, milk contractors to pay the farmers at least once a month, and the eight-hour day for doctors and nurses are among the measures the legislators have charged up against themselves.

The bills to license cats, tax bachelors, prohibit women from driving autos over thirty horsepower, prohibit liquor dealers from distribution of beer, without rest, by social organizations, make Jesse Pomeroy a "trustee" and give him four auto rides a year, prohibit smoking in street cars, prohibit publicity in divorce cases, prohibit handcuffing of female prisoners, and stop the sale of horseflesh for food each had a day in court and was sentenced to death.
